

Linda Bushnell is a Research Professor in ECE at the University of Washington. She received her Ph.D. in EE from UC Berkeley in 1994, her M.A. in Mathematics from UC Berkeley in 1989, her M.S. in EE from UConn in 1987, and her B.S. in EE from UConn in 1985. She also received her MBA from the University of Washington Foster School of Business in 2010. Her research interests include networked control systems and secure-control. She is a recipient of the US Army Superior Civilian Service Award, NSF ADVANCE Fellowship, and IEEE Control Systems Society Distinguished Member Award. She was elected a Fellow of the IEEE in 2017 for her contributions to networked control systems. She has been a member of the IEEE since 1985, a member of the IEEE CSS since 1990, and a member of the IEEE Women in Engineering since 2013. For IEEE CSS, she is currently a Distinguished Lecturer, Chair of the Women in Control Standing Committee, and Liaison to IEEE Women in Engineering. She is also Technical Program Co-Chair for ICCPS 2019, Treasurer of the American Automatic Control Council (AACC), Member of the Technical Board for the International Federation on Automatic Control (IFAC), Associate Editor for Automatica, Associate Editor for the Transactions on Control of Network Systems, and Series Editor for the Springer textbook series on Advanced Textbooks in Control and Signal Processing.
